

Daimler Truck Extends John O’Leary’s Leadership of North America Through 2028

Portland, Ore. (May 6, 2026)– The supervisory board of Daimler Truck Holding AG has reappointed John O’Leary, who leads Daimler Truck North America LLC (DTNA), underscoring its commitment to leadership continuity in one of its most important markets. His term as a member of the board of management now runs through the end of 2028.

Joe Kaeser, chairman of the Supervisory Board of Daimler Truck, said: “I am happy that John O’Leary, president and CEO of Daimler Truck North America, has agreed to extend his commitment for two more years. As an experienced and well-regarded CEO, John plays a crucial role in steering DTNA through the challenging environment the industry has been facing. He will lead the company to the next level of performance together with his strong team.”

Since 2021, O’Leary has led Daimler Truck North America through a period marked by strong operational execution, disciplined market management and a clear focus on advancing both conventional and advanced technologies. Under his leadership, the company has further strengthened its position in the North American market while supporting customers in a dynamic and evolving environment.

“I am honored by the continued trust and look forward to continue leading our North American team,” said O’Leary. “My deep appreciation goes to them for generating all the success we’ve had. Together, we will remain focused on delivering high performance for our customers and shareholders, while working hand in hand with our best-in-class dealer network. We are fully committed to relentlessly advancing innovation across all our products and services to further strengthen our leadership in all markets in which we compete.”

The extension of O’Leary’s mandate is part of broader leadership decisions aimed at ensuring stability and continuity at the board of management level. Achim Puchert, CEO Mercedes-Benz Trucks and Chief Financial Officer Eva Scherer were also reappointed, further strengthening the leadership team as the company continues its transformation.
